

Introduction to the Alliance

The Clackamas County Business Alliance (CCBA) is different than other business groups—we don't exist to create networking opportunities. Instead, our goal is to go directly to the elected and appointed officials at the state, regional and local level on behalf of business and advocate for policies and decisions that will help businesses stay, expand or locate in Clackamas County.

Join Our Efforts

Your business involvement will assure the CCBA is truly representative of industry and business in Clackamas County. We strongly encourage your membership and if time allows, your active participation. To become a member, simply contact our office and we will be glad to visit your company and personally discuss the benefits of membership.

Clackamas County Business Alliance

Your Voice of Influence

The Collective Voice of Business in Clackamas County

Our Priorities

- Land use/Development - the CCBA recognizes the need for a variety of employment lands and will be active in the development of additional industrial and employment land.
- Infrastructure - a strong infrastructure system is critical to the county's economic health.
- Regulation - the CCBA will advocate for less regulation and more flexibility for businesses in the County.
- Regional representation - CCBA will be a strong voice for business issues at Metro.

Business Advocacy

- Represent business interests on committees, commissions and boards throughout Clackamas County.
- Provide testimony and advocacy on business issues at the Oregon Legislature.
- Work with Metro, and advocate for business issues important to Clackamas County
- Collaborate and support workforce and training initiatives to provide qualified workers.

Communication

- Forums—These breakfast gatherings are focused on specific issues of significance and often include dialogue with elected officials.

- Monthly Board Meetings—The CCBA Board of Directors meets monthly, and welcomes attendance by members.
- The Alliance Update—Our weekly email includes issues that are time sensitive and important for businesses to be aware of.
