Why Should We Get Involved?

Join CCBA and be an important part of sustaining a healthy economic climate for all Clackamas County businesses.

We provide leadership, guidance and a unified voice

The Clackamas County Business Alliance works to identify opportunities and solve problems in the areas of workforce development, transportation and infrastructure, economic development, and land use. We are a “voice of influence” through our efforts and are able to directly affect policymaking and decisions that have an impact on the business climate within Clackamas County. We have commissioned studies on employment land to help decision makers understand our current need, and we have successfully advocated for inclusion of new employment lands in the urban reserve process with Metro.

Establishing key relationships & constructive dialogue on business issues

The CCBA is focused on recruiting members across key industries in our county. At each of our board meetings, we invite leaders from across industry sectors to share their needs, challenges and successes. We use this vital information to focus our work and educate policy makers. Our relationships with key decision makers and their staff allows for positive and constructive dialogue on business issues. These relationships offer a mutual benefit not only to our members, but also to those officials and their staff. Local elected officials and staff frequently attend CCBA events, meetings and forums to better understand the concerns and desires of their local business community.

Access to pertinent information

Another benefit of becoming a member of the CCBA is our access to and delivery of information on issues that have a direct impact on businesses. Our weekly email update provides timely, pertinent information to members as issues arise. Through the weekly update we are able to notify members of issues of importance and get a pulse of where our organization should and will weigh in on such matters. Additionally, we sponsor public forums throughout the year on topics ranging from hiring veterans, to urban growth boundaries and urban renewal districts.
